

30 Economic growth leads to increased levels of income and consumption per capita for the adult population.

Which circumstances are needed for this to happen in an economy?

- A a change in technology that maintains the same level of output
- B an increase in economic efficiency through higher productivity of factor inputs
- C a policy of progressive taxation to reduce inequalities
- D a rise in the size of the working population due to immigration