

1 Which items will be debited to accounts in the purchases ledger?

- 1 discount allowed
- 2 payments to suppliers
- 3 purchases
- 4 purchases returns

A 1 and 2 B 2 and 3 C 2 and 4 D 3 and 4

2 The accounting year end of a business is 31 October.

On 1 April the business rents out part of its warehouse for an annual rent of $6000. Payments were received in equal instalments on 1 April, 1 July, 1 October and 1 January.

At 31 October what would the financial statements show?

	income statement		statement of financial position
		$		$
A	rental income	3500	current asset	1000
B	rental income	3500	current liability	1000
C	rental income	4500	current liability	1000
D	rental income	6000	current asset	1500

3 Which transaction would increase the current assets of a business?

- A paying invoices $950, after receiving $50 cash discount
- B purchasing a machine on credit for $1200
- C purchasing inventory for $1100 cash and selling it on credit for $1500
- D selling inventory with an original cost of $800 at below cost price

4 A new machine is purchased at a price of $75 000. In addition, delivery and installation cost is $2500.

The business depreciates all non-current assets at a rate of 20% per annum using the straight line method.

By how much would this transaction decrease the profit for the year?

A $14 500 B $15 000 C $15 500 D $17 500