

- 4 A light meter measures the intensity I of the light falling on it. Theory suggests that this varies as the inverse square of the distance d .

Which graph of the results supports this theory?

