

23 The chart shows changes in employment by sector for a country between 2000 and 2006.

Which statement about the period 2000 to 2006 must be true for this country?

- A The primary sector lost more workers than the secondary sector.
- B Unemployment stayed constant.
- C Employment in service industries increased.
- D There was no change in the total working population.

24 A country's Consumer Price Index increased from 100 to 200 over a five-year period.

What can be deduced from this?

- A The economy experienced creeping inflation.
- B The standard of living halved.
- C The cost of living fell by 50 %.
- D The purchasing power of money halved.