16 One definition of a merit good is that it is one that will be underconsumed because of poor decision making.

Who would usually be responsible for this poor decision making?

- A the consumers of the good
- B the dealers who trade the good
- C the firms producing the good
- D the government
- 17 A local council charges for the use of tennis courts but not for the use of street lights.

How would an economist explain this?

- A Tennis courts are a luxury but street lights are a necessity.
- B Tennis courts are worth more than street lights.
- C There is an opportunity cost of using land to build tennis courts but not street lights.
- D The use of street lights cannot be restricted.
- 18 The government is considering building flood defences along a river. It has calculated the costs and benefits as follows.

	costs $m	benefits $m
private	450	260
external	60	190

According to cost-benefit analysis, which decision and reasoning about flood defences is correct?

	decision	reasoning
Α	build	external benefits are greater than external costs
В	build	social benefits are greater than private benefits
С	do not build	private costs are greater than the external benefits
D	do not build	social costs are greater than the social benefits
